The Unveiling of the Thomas Statue in Washington City---Other Late Telegrams.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The society of the Army of the Cumberland, after holding a secret session, adjourned to meet on board the steamer Jane Moseley, on which steamer the society was invited to visit Mount Vernon.

Having arrived, the meeting was resumed, during which, on motion of General Garfield, a vote of thanks was tendered to the three Virginia and the two Maryland companies who, forgetting party differences, had joined the Army of the Cumberland in paying respect to the memory of General Thomas.

When Mount Vernon was reached the wind was so strong that a landing could not be effected, and the steamer started on its return to this city.

The business meeting was resumed. A gentleman who had been an interested spectator of the proceedings stood upon a chair and stated that, as a soldier, who had fought against General Thomas and who carried Federal bullets in his bosom, he wished to raise his voice in honor of the memory of that great general. [Cheers.] He had fought for what he thought was right, but arbitrament of war had decided against him. It would be a long time hence, however, when he would not be willing to extend the hand of fraternal friendship to those who had fought against him. He now wished to join the Army of the Cumberland in doing honor to one of the bravest, purest and best generals who ever lived—General G. H. Thomas. [Loud cheers and cries of "good for you."]

He stated in response to a question that his name was Watkins, of Howard county, Md.

General Garfield said that Mr. Watkins's voice was only the first of that great orchestra of voices that would arise from all the States all over the Union in honor of General Thomas. The Army of the Cumberland gave its hand to Mr. Watkins and wished that there was a million Watkinses. Such hands as his the Army of the Cumberland would always grasp in fraternal welcome and love.

Foreign Items.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Snowing here. The iron steamer Palias from Copenhagen for Amsterdam is believed to be foundered off Heineskirk. Thirty persons are supposed to have perished.

The speeches for which Davit, Kill and Daly were arrested, were made at a meeting on the second of November in Gustien county, Sligo.

The following placard has been posted in several places in the county of Mayo: "To the people of Mayo: Fellow countrymen, the hour of trial is come, your leaders are arrested, Davit and Daly are in prison. The land and liberty God save the people. Balla, Balla, Saturday next, Saturday next. You know your duty, will you do it, yes you will. Balla is the place of the meeting, Saturday is the day, come in your thousands, and show the government, and the world that your rights you will maintain to rescue in mightiness of your numbers, land and liberty. God save the people. Balla, Balla, Saturday next, Saturday next.

Wealthy Cotton Merchants on the Move.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—An Odessa dispatch says about a dozen of the most prominent Russian cotton manufactures have lately gone to Egypt to buy enormous quantities of raw material and to hire all the plantations on the banks of the Nile. The chief aim of these merchants, who started with twenty million roubles, seems to be to shake off the yoke of the English and of the Liverpool market. All the produce of Egypt will not suffice to meet the wants of the Russian cotton factories.

A Supposed Lost Crew Found.

HALIFAX, Nov. 20.—An empty boat, with mast broken and sails gone, was found last Sunday morning near Advocate bridge. It is thought to be the one in which six persons left Scott's Bay for Advocate Harbor just previous to to the severe gale of last Saturday. All who were on board are supposed to be lost.

The Industrial Fair.

It is our wish, our real intention and our determination to give our colored people justice and good notices in the different departments.

Our class of readers do not like to see the paper devoted almost entirely to one thing or subject. We therefore, have to conclude this article just now on account of the pressure of telegraphic news, that is compelled to find place for insertion.

We hope all the colored people of their visiting white friends (which are rather numerous) will have a good time to-day.

HORTICULTURAL HALL.

The display in this department is small but what is there, is very creditable.

R. P. Buarden, of Charlotte exhibits a bridle and saddle, very good piece of workmanship.

Handy Lockett, of Raleigh, exhibits coffins and undertaker's work generally. His display is goed and his work excellent.

John Yarborough exhibits a pretty cow and calf.

Henry C. Jones, of Raleigh, exhibits a fine cow, he enters her for the best cow for general family use. The reporter knows something of this cow and can confidently say—"she's a good one."

John Jones enters a good saddle horse; John Price a number one bull.

There are other meritorious exhibits which we propose to hereafter mention, in this department.

DISPLAY OF STOCK.

About the prettiest horse on the grounds was Mr. R. J. William's "Buckskin."

He was taken out by Mr. Pomeroy, and trotted by the same gentleman, Mr. W. having loaned him for that purpose.

School Girl, had her admirers and there were number of horses that our space forbids us mentioning this morning—all shall have a hearing however.

Thomas Donaldson, exhibits some fine hogs. A fine sow and pigs, we first noticed, four months old weighing on an average of 50 pounds each. He had a Berkshire boar, 13 months old, that weighed over 200 pounds, that attracted considerable attention.

Our colored friends must not feel slighted; we don't believe in devoting our paper to any one thing.

It is impossible for us to give and mention the names of all the exhibits of merit in one issue, we are, therefore, bound to divide. All shall have a hearing before the series of articles are concluded.

Floral Hall was complete in all its appointments, and reflects great credit on the association.

Thomas Hall exhibited a "shell house," which was splendid—the best thing of the kind we noticed.

A well displayed lot of crocheting, tidies in white and blue, and knit thread work well done; and very clean, neat, nice work it was.

A very good painting of fruits and flowers was next in order of arrangement, followed by a long array of shawls, beautiful white pillow slips, and a beautifully embroidered baby dress.

The walls were hung with a profusion of nice chair covers made by the little daughter of John O'Kelly, of this city.

A great deal of crochet work of pretty design and worsted work was displayed.

The Declaration of Independence, copied in a large round "fist," attracted the attention of "nary" Anti-Bob-Toombs visitor.

A fine programme is announced.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

In the library of General Grant's residence at Galena "the coat-of-arms of the Grant family" hangs conspicuously on the wall.

Senator David Davis is reported seriously ill at Lenox, Massachusetts. His illness was brought on by the recent death of his wife.

Senator Bayard's candidacy is advocated by the four German daily newspapers of St. Louis, every one of the four representing a radically different class.

Miss Josephine Meeker, daughter of the late Indian Agent who was killed by the Utes, has been offered a clerkship in the Interior Department by Secretary Schurz.

Miss Rose Meeker, one of the survivors of the Ute massacre, will lecture in the Eastern States this season. She will endeavor to enlighten the peace policy people.

The Duke of Edinburgh's appointment as "Admiral Superintendent of the Naval Reserves," at $5,000 a year, is not universally liked in England. The position is an absolute sinecure.

Yazoo county, Miss., where Dixon was killed, has elected a colored Democrat to the next Legislature, and several other counties have done likewise.

The increased value of the Southern cotton, tobacco and sugar crops this year over last is estimated at $50,000,000. This increase is due to better prices, as well as to a larger yield.

Colonel Thomas A. Scott, President of the Pennsylvania railroad, was in Cleveland, Ohio, on Sunday last. The Herald, of that city, says he is not near so hale and hearty as he was only a short time ago, though he claims to be gradually improving in health.

The famous Seventh regiment of New York furnished over six hundred officers to the Union army during the war, of whom nearly one-tenth fell in action. A Fair is now in progress in the magnificent new armory of the regiment, which was opened on Monday for the first time.

Grant and Moody ran opposition Sunday entertainments at Chicago last Sunday, and the evangelist succeeded in keeping up his end of the beam very well. The ex-President appeared before a crowded church and shook hands with the congregation afterward, while Moody not only had a crowded church but had to turn thousands away at each service for lack of room.

The astronomical Professor Proctor deals in big figures. He says the earth is now 500,000 000 years old, and that in 2,000,000,000 years it will be "in extreme old age." This last is doubtless a true remark. After giving us these huge arithmetical computations he caps the climax of colossal numbers by the discouraging statement that "these periods of enormous duration of time sink into insignificance before the history of the solar system as a whole."

Diphtheria, which for several years has made great ravages in Russia, seems now to be gaining more and more ground. The disease has attained such frightful proportions in some regions that the percentage of mortality far exceeds that of the births. Eleven vast districts are afflicted with the disease. The mortality both of the youthful and adult population is so enormous that the government has appointed a special commission to inquire into the causes of the epidemic.

American and Foreign Shipping.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics states that the total tonnage of American vessels entered at our seaports from foreign countries during the last fiscal year—namely, 3,049,743 tons—exhibits an increase of only one per cent. over the preceding year, while the foreign tonnage entered during the same period amounted to 10,718,394 tons, which shows an increase of nearly twenty-six per cent. In speaking of the apparent anomaly presented in the prosperous condition of our foreign commerce—the balance of trade being very largely on our side, while the branch of our merchant marine is still greatly depressed—Mr. Nimmo says:

"Probably no other branch of American industry comes so directly into competition with foreign industry as does that of building vessels and operating them in international commerce. Neither tariff legislation, nor navigation laws, nor transportation charges, nor any other circumstances, intervenes to repress or shut out foreign competition. Evidently under such conditions the nation which can build and operate vessels the cheapest must eventually secure the principal share of the carrying trade in our foreign commerce. This has taken place, and the fact is clearly recorded in our statistics of tonnage entered."

The tonnage of the United States on the 30th of June last 4,169,601 tons, of which our sailing vessels aggregated 2,993,429 tons and our steam vessels 1,176,172 tons. The tables accompanying the report show that in the order of value the exports of domestic merchandise from the United States now rank as follows: First, bread and breadstuffs; second, cotton and manufactures of cotton; third, provisions; fourth, mineral oil; fifth, tobacco and manufactures of tobacco.

A Loss to the Colonel Commanding.

Farmer and Mechanic.

Capt. T. J. Robinson, Secretary or Treasurer, and brine-works, of the Agricultural Bureau, went home to Fayetteville last week quite sick. If his illness should be of long duration it would be a sad mishap for the colonel commanding. Because, as is well known in Raleigh, if not elsewhere, Robinson, (who for many years was in the Washington Agricultural Department,) has more knowledge, both practical and theoritcal, of farming matters than any of the "crowd," unless it be some members of the Board. He don't make speeches, or peddle palaver, but you can always find him at his desk, and solid as a sack of salt.

The Birth Place of Yellow Fever.

Boston Herald.

An intelligent resident of Havana says that Cuba is the grave-yard of Spain, and a more befitting name than "Pearl of the "Antilles." In one cemetery near the capital 80,336 interments have been made within ten years, and in a neighboring burial ground over 10,000.

TROUBLE IN TENNESSEE.

DESPERADOES AT WORK NEAR JAMESTOWN.

One Man Killed Outright and Another Severely Clubbed---Arrest and Release of One of the Party.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 20.—A special dispatch from Morristown, Tenn., says that two men named Dawns and Anderson, a day or two since went armed with rifles to the house of Miss Josephine Williams, near Jamestown, and insulted the lady mentioned, at the same time threatening to shoot a man named Steincipher, if he did not leave, whereupon the last named snatched a rifle from one of the attacking party—Dawns—and shoots him dead on the spot, when he turned upon Anderson and clubbed him nearly to death. Steincipher was arrested, but no one appearing against him he was subsequently released.

Improvement of the Quality of Cotton.

New Orleans Times.

The South's cotton production is now assuming proportions which few deemed possible under the conditions attended on free labor. But it is not to the quantity alone that we should look in the production of cotton; quality is also a consideration of the very first importance. A little more attention to details that, in themselves, seem unimportant will produce a vast and healthy change in this regard.

With respect to cottons that are sold on their class alone, the main considerations or color, freedom from leaf and ginning. If cotton is stained its class is lowered, as a rule, fully one grade. High class cottons must be as free as possible from leaf, and, especially, the "fancy" grades. Many country buyers purchase cotton that classes very high, but is somewhat leafy, and are very much surprised and dissatisfied at not obtaining "fancy" prices. Bad ginning does much harm to good cottons, as it makes them "wasty" and generally undesirable. Nothing detracts more from the "style" of cotton than defective ginning, and one insensibly classes "gin-cut" cottons down on account of their ragged appearance.

When it comes to extra staple, careful handling is absolutely essential. It is also of vital importance that the seed be carefully watched and selected each year, to prevent mixture. It is no uncommon thing to find bales that contain two or three kinds of staple, and, as if the producer had not been content to let bad enough alone, badly ginned besides. The sample of such a tale presents to a connoisseur of cotton just the appearance of a head of hair that has suffered mutilation at the hands of an unskillful barber. In ginning staple cotton, and, particularly, "extra staple" kinds, the gin should be run much more slowly than when handling short staple. Many planters neglect their gins, and are careless in their ginning for which they pay a penalty ranging from two and a half to ten dollars per bale. The lint room of a gin should be kept clean; otherwise the cotton, baled up, will have a dingy and dusty appearance, and "gin-falls" will be distributed in layers that often make rebaling necessary. Sometimes, too, the roof of the gin house is allowed to leak, and the planter is highly indignant when his factor, soon after, informs him that his cotton has been rejected as "water-packed." "Water-packing" is oftener the result of carelessness than of bad faith, and the same remark will apply to "mixed" cotton.

Having thus exhausted phisics and reached its very rim a mighty mystery still looms beyond us. We have, in fact, made no step toward its solution. We try to soar in a vacuum, when we endeavor to pass by logical deduction from the one to the other.

Religious feeling is as much a verity as any other part of human consciousness; and against it, on its subjective side, the waves of science beat in vain.

I could see that his (Carlyle's) contention at bottom always was that the human soul has claims and yearnings which physical science cannot satisfy.

It seemed high time to him (Virchow) to enter an energetic protest against the attempts that are made to proclaim the problems of research as actual facts and the opinions of scientists as established science.

We ought not, Virchow urges, to represent our conjecture as a certainty, nor our hypothesis as a doctrine; this is inadmissable.

The burden of my writings in this connection is as much a recognition of the weakness of science as an assertion of its strength.

If asked whether science has solved, or is likely in our day to solve, the problem of the universe, I must shake my head in doubt. Behind and above, around us the real mystery of the universe lies unsolved, and as far as we are concerned, is incapable of solution. The problem of the connection of body and soul is as insoluble in its modern form as it was in the pre-scientific ages.

There ought to be a clear distinction made between silence in the state of hypothesis and science in the state of fact.

And inasmuch as it is still in its hypothetical stage, the ban of exclusion ought to fall upon the theory of evolution.

After speaking of the theory of evolution applied to the primitive condition of matter, as belonging to the dim twilight of conjecture, the certainty of experimental inquiry is here shut out.

Those who hold the doctrine of evolution are by no means ignorant of the uncertainty of their data, and they only yield to it a provisional assent.

In reply to your question they will frankly admit their inability to point to any satisfactory experimental proof that life can be developed save from demonstrable antecedent life.

I share Virchow's opinion that the theory of evolution in its complete form involves the assumption that at some period or other of the earth's history there occurred what would be now called spontaneous generation. I agree with him that the proofs of it are still wanting. I hold with Vichow that the failures have been lamentable, that the doctrine is utterly discredited.

FIGHTING JOE HOOKER.

How He Avenged an Insult From General D. S. Stanley.

It was during the cold winter of 1863-64, succeeding the battles of Chicamauga, in which General Hooker did not participate, and Mission Ridge and Lookout Mountain, in which he did, that his two Potomac Army Corps, the Eleventh and Twelfth, were in camp on Mocasin Point, at the foot of Lookout Mountain. General Stanley, with the First Division of the Fourth Army Corps, occupied the ground stretching away from Bridgeport, on the Tennessee River, to Hooker's line at Shell Mound. One day an officer of General Hooker's staff, handsome and well-dressed, as becomes a staff officer, rode up to General Stanley's headquarters, which are one the hill south of the river, and announced that an order had been issued from army headquarters, at Chattanooga, directing Gen. Hooker to extend his line as far as the river and relieve General Stanley's division.

Those who remember the chartacter of the commissary whiskey furnished to our army during that winter will probably recall the fact that it was not calculated to render a man any more amiable than he was naturally, and the reply that the staff officer received from the irate General of the First Division was not complimentary to the General in command of the Potomac troops. "Go to General Hooker," and Stanley, "and tell him that I will hold no communication with him. He is a scoundrel!" That night an order came to Stanley's headquarters directing him to report at once to General Thomas at army headquarters. He obeyed the order. What took place was never known, but he was a much changed man on his return. His division moved immediately to Cleaveland, East Tennessee, where it remained until the Atlantic campaign commenced.

The next time the two generals met was at the battle of Resacca, where Stanley's division occupied the left and Hooker was in the reverse.

The enemy had executed a flank movement under cover of the hills on our front, and suddenly poured like an avalanche down the hill on our flank. General Brigade, although one of the best in the army, was driven back upon the rear of Gross' brigade, and the victorious Confederates rushed forward to capture Captain Simonson's battery, which was being worked to its full capacity, dealing out canister shot by the ton upon their advancing lines. The field in front of the battery was covered with troops, when, as if by magic, the head of Hooker's column, led by Fighting Joe in person, appeared upon the scene, sent by General Thomas upon Stanley's requisition for re-enforcements.

"How are you, Hooker?" "How are you, Stanley?" was all the greeting that passed. The column moving by the left flank, marched at double-quick along the road that lined the field, never halting or paying the least attention to the fighting going on about the battery until reaching the furthest extremity of the field, when it halted, faced to the front, fixed bayonets, and charged across the field, never pausing until it disappeared in the woods beyond. It seems like destiny that the first cry of distress from Stanley, and the only one he was compelled to utter during the campaign, should have been responded to by the man he had abused so outrageously; but if Hooker could have chosen his mode of revenge, he could have thought of none that would have so galled the pride of Stanley. They were both brave men and splendid officers, but had too many characteristics in common to be friends.

Reducing the Rents in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—The agitation respecting the land question continues, and manifests in many phases an extraordinary and threatening disposition on the part of the tenant farmers and the politicians who are engineering the movement. At Roscommon yesterday a very large meeting assembled, at which Mr Parnell, the chief leader of this agitation, delivered a lengthy and impassioned speech, reiterating his former declaration that the land owners, if confronted by the united force of the tenantry, would yield, and that in this matter the one remaining grievance which Ireland mourned over to-day would be redressed. The assemblage listened to Mr. Parnell with approbation, but when the O'Connor Don member of Parliament from Roscommon attempted to address the meeting he was hooted down, and the other gentlemen who were known to be exponents of conservative principles were similarly refused a hearing. The practical results of the anti-rent agitation are already very considerable. Every day announcements are made that this and that landlord have voluntarily reduced their rents. Today it is stated that Major O'Gorman, member of Parliament for Waterford, and a large land owner in that district, has reduced the rents of tenats from forty to seventy-five per cent. Major O'Gorman was always extremely popular in Waterford, and this concession to the popular feeling and the necessity for meeting the demands of the tenant farmers, has been received throughout Ireland, not with surprise, but with cordial approbation.

MEN AND THINGS.

The Democrats of Maine cannot afford to do anything that will make Time their enemy. They could not do the Republicans better service than to count them out on trivial grounds. The reaction would not be felt in Maine alone, but throughout the whole country.

TRAPPING A FORGER.

HOW LIVINGSTON, ALIAS WALKER, VICTIMIZED BUSINESS MEN.

He Buys a Blank Check Book and Draws $900 on Forged Signatures ---He Tries $1,800 More.

Cashier Edwards of the Bank of the State of New York succeeded yesterday in trapping a daring young forger in the office of that institution, at No. 35 William street. The arrest was the sequel to a skillful bit of detective work, carried out by the assistance of the paying teller. On Saturday morning last a boy entered the bank and purchased a check bank book for $7.50. No notice was taken of this circumstance at the time. About noon of the same day a young man stepped up to the paying teller's window and presented a check for $900 on the account of Barclay & Livingston, wine merchants No. 24 Beaver street. This firm usually carries a large balance at the banking house. The teller scanned the stranger closely, and saw that he was possessed of a clerical appearance, a light mustache, and wore a stylish suit of black. The check was made payable to Samuel Ogden—a stranger to the bank's books—but being seemingly indorsed "Barclay & Livingston," there was no alternative but to pay over the amount. But before passing the money out the teller compared signatures. That on the paper seemed undoubtedly genuine, even to the pen flourish. Twenty minutes after the stranger's departure a messenger from Messrs. Barclay & Livingston presented a check for $50.

"Why, a young man from your firm has just taken $900 out," said the teller.

"Then it must be a forgery," replied the messenger. "I am the only one authorized to do the firm's business with the bank."

It was then ascertained by a reference to the accounts that no money or check had been given to "Samuel Ogden." By advice of Cashier Edwards the unpleasant discovery was kept a secret, in anticipation of a further attempt to despoil the bank. In this surmise Mr. Edwards was correct, for yesterday morning the ministerial youth again put in an appearance. His check this time was for $1,800. According to a signal previously arranged, the teller called out to Mr. Edwards that "another check" was received. "Pay it," replied the last named officer, who thereupon strolled out of his office and up to where the stranger was counting several one-hundred-dollar notes.

When the money was in his hands he was requested to step into a private office. Detective Dunn was sent for, and Mr. Edwards accused the young man of forging Messrs. Barclay & Livingston's names to both checks. He denied the charge, and in an affable and composed manner insisted upon a judicial hearing. Detective Dunn searched him under protest, but to his surprise found no traces of money about his clothing. His boots were taken off, his hat searched, and his pockets rifled, but no money was found.

"I haven't any money, I assure you," said the young man.

"There's nothing here," exclaimed the detective, despairingly.

"Try again, I am positive the money is still about him," urged the cashier.

A second attempt proved unsuccessful, until Detective Dunn happened to pass his hand under Walker's vest. Inside his bosom linen was found a small pocket which contained the money. He was then taken to the Tombs Court and remanded until this morning.

The prisoner described himself as Charles Walker, 25 years of age, living in Bleecker street. He then said that he had received the check from a stranger in the street to take to the bank for him.

The newspapers of Nov. 4 published reports concerning two young men who had called at Ephraim T. Johnson's gold pen store at No. 44 Nassau street, ostensibly to examine some pens. The young men were William H. Oltman and Charles H. Livingston. Oltman looked at the pens while Livingston stood near the safe. Mr. Daniel W. Johnson, while waiting upon Oltman, heard a noise at the safe, and looking quickly around saw Livingston withdrawing his hand from the safe. A paper parcel containing sixteen patent telescopic penholders was afterward found in an empty waste basket. The young men were arrested, and taken before Justice Morgan. Livingston said he was a clerk in the employ of a Director of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The two prisoners were held in $300 bail. Two days after that, Mr. Johnson, who knew Oltman to be well connected, called upon the District Attorney, explained the facts, and obtained his authority to withdraw the charge. Mr. Johnson then wrote a letter to the newspapers, stating:

"After a careful and thorough investigation in all the facts of the case, I have become fully satisfied that, so far as William H. Oltman is concerned there is not the slightest evidence to warrant a doubt of his entire innocence in the premises."

Livingston was fortunate, also, as when his case was called in Special Sessions he was discharged for lack of evidence. Livingston was recognized yesterday as the young man who was arrested for forgery, and who gave his name as Charles Walker.

It is astounding to see how vast an improvement has been wrought in the quality of the cotton produced in certain parts of the South. Let us take Arkansas, for example. There is a story to the effect that a well known factor—whose business lay almost entirely in Arkansas—was standing in the cotton room of a brother factor whose receipts came almost exclusively from Mississippi. The Arkansas factor was looking at a list of five hundred bales, whose average class was fully good middling. Somebody asked him much of that grade he found in a shipment of five hundred bales which he had, on the previous day received from Arkansas river. After the bystanders had made their guesses—at his request—he finally told them that out of the entire shipment he had managed, by diligent search, to find three bales that might class middling; the balance ranged from low ordinary to strict good ordinary—dingy, dusty and discolored. Now, it not unfrequently happens that a shipment of Arkansas cotton will average strict middling in class. What has been done in that State can, with skill and patience, be accomplished throughout the South. The result would be, in a pecuniary sense, beneficial to all classes, and would increase the high reputation which American cotton enjoys.

The Scientific Recognition of God.

Selections from Professor Tyndall's Recent Articles in the Fortnightly Review.

If asked to deduce from the physical interaction of the brain molecules the least of the phenomena of sensation or thought, we must acknowledge our helplessness.

The mechanical philosopher, as such, will never place a state of consciousness and a group of molecules in the relation of mover and moved. In passing from the one to the other we meet a blank which the logic of deduction is unable to fill.

Physical considerations do not lead to the final explanation of all that we feel and know.

We meet a problem which transcends any conceivable expansions of the powers which we now possess.

We may think over the subject again and again, but it eludes all intellectual presentation.

THE PRESIDENT IN NEW YORK

Opening the Fair in the New Armory of the Seventh Regiment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—President Hayes, accompanied by his son, Webb C. Hayes, and Secretary of State Evarts arrived in New York Monday morning from Washington by the 7 o'clock train. The party was met at the depot by the Lieutenant Colonel of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., and was escorted to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where apartments on the first floor were assigned to them. During the morning John J. Astor, General Kilpatrick, Collector Merritt, General Graham, Albert Bierstadt and other prominent citizens called and paid their respects to the President.

He also received a delegatton from the American Institute. This afternoon the President was escorted by the Seventh Regiment to their new armory, where he formally opened the fair. The regiment had promised a fair which in point of brilliancy should outshine any ever before attempted. It has kept its promise. When it was opened to-day there were goods in the building worth a million dollars, including everything under the sun. The arrangements are not yet quite complete and the armory is not entirely in order, but the great building with its stock is certainly a marvel.

Why Are Pews Empty?

Philadelphia North American.

An animated discussion is going on just now in church circles upon the lamentable falling off in church attendance. It is impossible any longer to ignore the fact that congregations are growing small by degrees and beautifully less. This ominous and significant truth has been established by actual count in our own city.

Perhaps what is most needed is sincerity of feeling and an earnestness of expression. Most ministers preach as though they were not quite sure about the truth of what they say, or else they run along in the old ruts, and are content to repeat theological formulas, from which the potency has long since departed.

The pulpit needs to be brought more into communication and sympathy with the outside world. The preacher must move along with the driving current of human thought, or else the tide will sweep past and leave him stranded. He must speak to his congregation as a man to his fellow men, and not read them theological essays upon doctrinal abstractions in which no one but himself is interested. People are always ready and anxious to hear preaching of the right kind. They will flock to hear a Liddon, a Beecher, or even a Talmage, because these men have life in them and speak to the hearts of their hearers, but for the dry as dust disquisitions they have no use at all.

Case of Childish Fright.

A little girl recently died in San Francisco whose death resulted from a strange case of fright. About a year ago the child was knocked down and bitten by a large dog. A few days before her death, while playing on the sidewalk, she was confronted by the same dog, and was so frightened by the sight that she fell in violent convulsions, and despite prompt medical treatment, died from their effects. Another unusual case of fright, attended with serious results, occurred recently at Woodward's Gardens, in the same city. A six-year-old boy was witnessing a performance at the gardens of Pinafore, and was so frightened at the sight of the manly marines throwing the surly "Did Deadeye" overboard, that he was taken home sick, and is just recovering from an attack of brain fever which resulted.

The Sickles Elopement Rumors.

The New York Tribune says George G. Sickles, the father of General Daniel E. Sickles, indignantly denies the rumor of the elopement by his granddaughter, Miss Laura Sickles, at Paris. He says every word of the report is a falsehood; that Miss Sickles has been an invalid for over two years; she has had trouble with her brain, and for several months she has been sick and under the care of a physician. Edward P. Field, Gen. Sickles's associate in law, reiterates the former denial. The gentleman who furnished the particulars of the rumor on Sunday said that he had heard the report from several different sources. He also said that an account of the affair had appeared in the Paris daily paper, Le Gaulois, and that it had been the chief topic of conversation up on the European steamers at the time.

The New York Star states that Gen. Charles K. Graham, surveyor of that port, and an intimate friend of Gen. Sickles, says the reported elopement of Miss Sickles is correct.

The streets through which the Seventh Regiment marched from the old armory, over Tompkins' Market, to their new one, at Fourth avenue and Sixty-seventh street, were crowded with people, who frequently applauded the regiment and the carriage containing President Hayes, Secretary Evarts, Mayor Cooper and Hon. George William Curtis. The new armory was filled with people, including many of the most distinguished citizens of New York. The President, upon his arrival, was heartily cheered. Several hundreds of ladies, in full dress, were present. The services were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Weston, chaplain, after which Mayor Cooper, who presided on the occasion, delivered, as representative of the city, a complimentary address to the regiment, at the close of which he introduced the orator of the day, Hon. George William Curtis.

Lotteries and the Mails.

Postmaster General Key has finally decided that he has power enough, under the United States statutes, to prevent the delivery of letters addressed to the managers of lottery concerns, upon the general ground that they are schemes to defraud the public." All letters so addressed will consequently be detained by Postmasters and returned to their initial addresses through the dead letter office. This order applies more especially to money order letters and those which are registered, and the order is made specific by the fact that the department, in its order, designates certain firms of lottery dealers as amongst those employing fictitious firm names in the pursuit of their enprizes.

GOVERNMENT EXPENSES.

ESTIMATES FOR RUNNING THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

Mr. Hayes' Message to the Next Congress---Figures for the People to Ponder On.

A book of estimates for the expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, has been completed, and will accompany the message of Mr. Hayes to Congress as an appendex. The estimates for the legislative branch are $2,954,920.68, against an amount appropriated for the present fiscal year ending June 30, 1880, of $3,005,186.68. The separate items are for the Senate, House of Representatives, Public Printer, Court of Claims and Botanic Garden. For the Executive Department proper—estimates for 1881, $97,464,000, against appropriation for 1881 of $95,464,000, an excess of estimates over present year's appropriation of $2,000,000. Estimates for the State Department for 1881 are $165,800, against appropriation for 1880 of $138,340, an excess of $27,460. Estimates for the Treasury Department are $8,574,405.91; appropriated present year, $8,440,587.90; increase of estimates for 1881 over 1880, $133,818.01.

Additional clerks are asked in this department. The increase in the Treasury department proper over the present year is put at $192,292. For the independent treasury the estimates are $1,209,810; the amount appropriated present year, $1,216,780, a decrease; estimates for Territorial government 1881, $173,063.81; amount appropriated for present year, $185,043-90, a decrease; estimates for internal revenue for 1881, $4,075,000; amount appropriated for present year, $3,750,000: excess of estimates, $325,000. Estimates for War department proper are $1,150,460, against amount appropriated for present year of $1,158,670, an excess of estimates of $799. For the Navy department the estimates are $181,370; amount appropriated, $165,030, an excess of $16,340. For the Interior department proper, $2,146,774, against amount appropriated the present year of $1,741,604. For public lands, under Department of Interior, $184·100, against appropriation for present year of $112,850, an excess of $71,250. The estimates for the Post Office department are $621,940, against an appropriation for 1880 of $570,640, an excess of $51,300. For the Department of Agriculture the estimates are $226,600, appropriation for present year of 193,000, an excess of estimates of $33,600.

The Department of Justice estimates for $142,180, against a present appropriation of $129,980, an excess of estimates of $12,200. The total estimates for the Executive departments are $3,500,093 91 against amount appropriated for present year of $11,746,165 90, an excess of $753,828 01. The estimates for the Judicial department are $399,300, against $399,400 appropriated the present year, a decrease of $100. The estimates for the total civil list are $16,854,314 59, against $16,150,792 58, an excess of estimates of $703,522 01. The estimates for foreign intercourse are $1,180,135, against an amount appropriated for present year of $1,094,735; an excess of $91,400. Estimates for the military establishment for the fiscal year 1881 are $29,319,794 78, against appropriation for the present fiscal year of $26,978,847 33; an excess of estimates over amount appropriated the present year of $2,340,947 45. Estimates for the naval establishment are $14,508,147 95, against appropriation of $13,919,768 95 for the present year; an excess of $589,370.

Estimates for Indian affairs for 1881, $4,992,845.86; appropriated for 1880, $4,713,178.58; an excess of $279,667.28. Estimates for pensions, 1881, are $32,404,000, against $29,366,000 for present year, an excess of $3,038,000. For public works the estimates are $11,568,468.74, against $10,450,617.94 for the present year; an excess of $117,841.80. Estimates for postal service, 1881, $7,711,900, against appropriation for 1880 of $5,872,376.10; an excess of $1,839,523.90. Estimates for "Miscellaneous" for 1881, $17,801,520.75, against $12,843,778.84 appropriated for the present year; excess of estimate, $4,957,741.91.

RECAPITULATION.

The excess of estimates over amounts appropriated for the present year is:

For the total civil list, $703,522.01.

Total, $13,958,026.35.

A Lucky Trio of Firemen.

Three of the members of Engine Company No. 12, of New York City, are rejoicing in a surplus of wealth acquired honestly, but very rapidly. They sent the old woman who acts as the janitress of the Engine house with a dollar to buy a half ticket in the October drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. She went to some purpose, for they drew on their investment Five Thousand Dollars in gold, and they feel refreshed. To know what the odds are, address M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La., or same person at 319 Broadway, New York City, N. Y., before December 16th, when the extraordinary distribution under the sole management of Generals G. T. Beauregard and Jubal A. Early will take place.

An Extra Crazy Tourist.

Cincinnati Enquirer, Paris Letter.

One of the saddest sights in Paris at present is an insane American who tramps the boulevards incessantly and is constantly to be met at the restaurants, where his eccentric behavior and wild appearance throw the guest into consternation. He knows enough to order what he wants like a gentleman, to pay the bill and fee the waiter; but his excited utterances, wild eyes and cadaverous physiognomy make him a real skeleton at the feast. The burden of his fearfully painful talk, sad as death at a wedding march, is the groaning and blood-curdling plaint: "I know what murder is! Three brothers, two sisters, all assassinated in America." I was breakfasting this morning when he came in. The proprietor, knowing him and prefering his room to his company tried to eject him. He was for tight instantly, and hastily produced a passport on which I saw Uncle Sam's protecting eagle.

New Biographical Dictionary.

Prominent among the valuable features of the New Edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, just issued, is the "New Biographical Dictionary," comprising about 10,000 names of ancient and modern persons of renown, including many now living. It gives us the pronunciation of these names, the nationality, profession or occupation, date of birth, and if known, the date of death of each person. From its conciseness and accuracy it supplies a want long felt in this direction, and adds very greatly to the value of this always valuable work.

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21,

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

California may be taken out of the list of the probable Republican States in 1880. The Democrats and Workingmen are making arrangements to combine for the national fight, and they are reasonably certain to be perfected. As a proof of this, Governor Irwin has just appointed William F. White, the late Workingman's candidate for Governor to the important office of Bank Commissioner.

PRINCE JEROME BONAPARTE, who has inherited the Bonapartist claims' has suddenly abandoned his expectant attitude and begun to agitate. The Prince announced some time ago that he would raise no agitation against the republic. He does not propose this even now, but announces himself as a candidate for President under the present constitution. As this was the very trick by which Louis Napoleon got himself into power and overthrew the republic, it has already aroused suspicion, and Jerome will probably be invited to cross the border if he becomes troublesome. The Prince has been hitherto very poor and always cramped for want of money; it seems, however, that he is now said to be paying it out liberally to advance his interests.

EX-GOVERNOR HENRY P. BALDWIN who has been appointed by the Governor of Michigan to succeed the late Senator Chandler, was born in Coventry, R. I., February 22, 1814. He was left an orphan when quite young. He received a good education. For eight years before attaining his majority he was a mercantile clerk in Pawtucket, and then for several years he was in business for himself in Woonsocket. He went to Detroit in 1838, and afterward was president of the Second National Bank of that city. He was twice elected as State Senator, and twice, in 1869 and 1870, as Governor. His early education has been much enlarged by foreign travel and the study of men and books.

DURING the political canvass in San Francisco last fall a number of the candidates of the workingmen's party made public pledges to pay into the city treasury, in case of their election, a portion of the salary attaching to the offices for which they were running. This pledge was made use of in the canvass to influence votes in support of the workingmen, and the nominees of that party were elected to a number of important city offices. Judge Wright, of the county court, has decided that in giving this pledge the candidates violated the laws regulating elections, and are therefore ineligible to the offices. the court held that the pledge to return to the city a part of the regular salary of the office was, in effect, using money to promote the election of the candidate, and therefore illegal. Unless the Kearneyites can secure a reversal of this decision from the Supreme court of the State they will not get the offices to which they were elected.

IN alluding to General Thomas and the unveiling of his monument in Washington, Wednesday, the Washington Post says:

"The hardest duty which the true men who fought the battle of the Union in the war of the Rebellion were called to perform, was patient, uncomplaining submission to manifest and cruel injustice and the part of those who were their superiors in rank, though often their inferiors in every element of manly or soldierly character. There was a great deal of this. Under the peculiar circumstances it could not well have been otherwise. Mean and selfish men attained places of power, and used their opportunities to injure and annoy better, braver men who were placed in their power by the exigencies and chances of the service. Gen. Thomas had his full share of this to bear, and he bore it like the grand soldier and patriot that he was. However much his spirit may have chafed under repeated inflictions of neglect and malice, he gave no outward hint, but calmly performed the duties assigned him, and more than once saw others bearing the honors he had won.

Notice Served on General Grant.

In the Cincinnati Commercial of the 16th, Mr. Halstead says: "We have to remark of this that the politicians who are for Grant all assume that the people are driving them. This we believe to be a great folly and delusion. The silence of Grant on this subject does not seem to us so impressive as to others. Indeed, it is a farce that will soon be laughed at. If Grant's friends suppose that he will get the nomination without a contest they are foolish. Do they suppose Sherman and Blaine will put their hands on their mouths and their mouths in the dust before Grant, and that the whole American people will bow down in abjectness in the presence of his glory? If General Grant is wanted for the third term by nearly everybody but a few politicians jealous of his overshadowing prestige, and the country needs him as the one strong man, it would be sheer perversity in him not to consent to hold the office of President, or whatever we might name it, for life. We have not heard just now of his intense indifference to the Presidency for the first time. He is the only man who ever esteemed it a sacrifice to take that place."

Why Sherman Declined.

New York Times (Rep.)

Secretary Sherman is a busy man and may well ask to be excused for not taking an active part in the Louisiana canvass. But it is unfortunate to say the least, that after denouncing the South in Maine, Ohio and New York, as a section in which Republicans are denied freedom of speech and fair play in a campaign, he is now under the necessity of declining the test which his own words invited. Mr. Sherman is not the only prominent Northern Republican whose convenience does not admit of a Southern trip at this season, or whose taste repels the idea of delivering on the spot, in the presence of Southern gatherings, the stern judgments which have been pronounced before applauding crowds in Northern cities.

Some More About Mr. Tilden.

New York Tribune.

The latest rumor about Mr. Tilden is highly entertaining. It credits him with a purpose of handing over his Presidential claims to Charles Francis Adams, keeper of the fraud brand. He thinks Mr. Adams is the only man who can unite the party. His idea probably is that the surest way to preserve the corpse is to freeze it.

POLITICAL POINTS.

-The Philadelphie Times thinks Grant is not near stalwart enough for the Blaine-Conkling-Carpenter party.

—Wade Hampton says: 'One indiscreet fool in the South can overthrow the work of many wise statesman.'

—The New York World sounds the alarm in heading its brief dispatches of the Chicago entertainment: 'King Grant.'

—That staunch Democratic paper, the Louisville Ky., Argus, classes North Carolina, and South Carolina and Florida among the doubtful States next year.

The Brooklyn Eagle thinks John Kelly is the lost Pleiad.

'Slaughter in the house of its friends,' concludes the Oswego Palladium.

The Lowell Courier, which says that its information comes from 'a source close to she throne,' reports that General Butler's campaign expenses for the last two years will reach $275,000.

The Buffalo Courier says: 'What with the progress in the art of speechmaking and the new ideas he has picked up abroad about civil government, the General's attractions as a Presidential candidate are no doubt greatly increased.'

The Washington Gazette says; 'The Democratic party has never been so thoroughly purged before. It is now in possession of a clean stomach and being careful as to its diet, will be able next year to swallow the Radical party and digest it.'

The Elmira Advertiser says: 'Those Republican papers, there are only five or six of them, but they made a great deal of noise, which expected to see Hamilton Ward swallowed up because he made a stalwart speech at Rome, are now bothering their brains for reasons in explanation of his running ahead instead of behind.'

Shocking Ravages of the Diphtheria in Russia.

A dispatch from Berlin to the London Times says: "Diphtheria, which for several years has made great ravages in Russia, seems now to be gaining more and more ground. The disease, says the Novoe Vremya, has attained such frightful proportions in some regions that the percentage of mortality far exceeds that of the births. In the small district of Mirgorod, where the epidemic has been raging since 1875 until now, 414 persons succumbed to the disease in 1876, and in 1877 no fewer than 1,308 persons died. In Odessa, since May last, diphtheria snatched away 76 per cent. of the children, and in Stavropol, in the course of four months, one half of the infant population fell victims to the disease. In Kisheneff, and in the vicinity of Kieff and Poltava, the epidemic has been raging for the last two years without interruption. In the village of Kaploonofka, in the government of Karkoff, fifty children died in the course of two weeks.

In the hamlet of Nakomobka more than two hundred infants have been carried away by the disease since January last, in addition to a large number of adults. In the village of Tamorofka not one child has escaped the epidemic. The Mariopol district has showed an average daily death roll of ten. The Novoe Vremya adds a long list of places where diphtheria is raging in the same frightful degree, and even worse. More than eleven vast districts are afflicted with the disease. The mortality both of the youthful and adult population is so enormous that the government has appointed a special commission, under M. Karel, Physician-in-Ordinary to the Emperor, to inquire into the causes of the epidemic, and has issued strict injunctions to the local authorities about the measures to be adopted for the arrest and extinction of the disease.

Home Manufactured Silks.

New York Graphic.

One of the main difficulties with which the American silk manufacturer has hitherto had to contend, has been the want of skilled labor, more especially in regard to the production of black dress goods. On account of the necessity of securing perfect equality in the threads, such goods are far more difficult to produce than are the more highly ornamented fabrics, but although the manufacturer of broad black silks on anything like a large scale has only been attempted in this country within the last half dozen years, it is estimated that fully one-third of the plain silks, and a much larger proportion of the brocade silks which are consumed in the United States, are made here. They advance in this branch of manufacture within the last three years is greater than that in any other department of our silk industry.

The Chinese Will Come.

Chinese cheap labor is again in motion. The China Merchants' Steamship Company, a Mongolian corporation composed of some of the wealthiest mandarins of the empire, is about to establish a line of steamers to run between China and the Sandwich Islands, to be followed by another line to run between the islands and San Francisco. About four years ago the Pacific Mail subsidy from the government, in consideration of which two steamers a month were run to China, were discontinued, and simultaneously one of the steamers was stopped. This retarded immigration to some extent, but the effect was neutralized by the establishment of the Occidental and Oriental line, which has been in operation ever since. If the new project be carried into effect, competition will be sharp between the two lines, and Chinamen can be carried to California for a song

A Month With a Bullet in His Heart.

New Haven Courier.

In July, 1878, Amos June, of Greenwich, was carelessly shot in the left breast by a colored boy named Eli Carpenter. The bullet remained in the body, and on the last day of August, 1878, June fell dead while working in the field. An inquest was held, and a verdict rendered charging Carpenter with criminal neglect. It was found on the post mortem examination that the bullet passed through the left lung, ruptured the pericardium, and into the heart. The heart was subsequently taken to the Pathological Society, of New York, and the bullet was found. On Wednesday, October 29, Carpenter was arrested while passing through Mianus, and committed to Bridgeport jail to await the action of the grand jury.

A New Aid for Cotton Growers.

There is a little cotton mill in Westminister, Ga., which takes the cotton from the pod on the plantation where it grows and converts it by a simple and inexpensive process into yarn. By this transformation the cotton is increased in value from three cents to seventeen cents a pound. This is not the only advance, as the cotton, if not made into yarn, must be taxed for ginning, compressing, bagging, tying, weighing, storage, wharfage, and other transportation charges. The advantage of the new process is so apparent that the cotton planters seriously propose to establish just such mills among their plantations as a preparatory step to the establishment of cotton cloth manufactories, to compete with those of New England. This method is certainly a great improvement over those that prevailed fifty years ago, before the railroad era. Then there was a mill of four hundred spindles at Mill Springs, Kentucky. The planters of that day would haul their cotton from as far South as Huntsville, Alabama, to the mill. After it was spun into yarn it was again hauled to Louisville and exchanged for goods, which were conveyed in wagons to the spot where the cotton grew.

The Quay-Bayayd Boom.

New York Sun.

The first thought of Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, the distinguished ring chieftain and fast friend of the Camerons, when he read the returns of the late election, was that there was now a fine opportunity to boost Mr. Bayard into the Democratic candicacy, and he so telegraphed the Philadelphia Times before morning. Mr. Bayard would evidently suit the Republicans very well.

An Important Decision.

Chief Justice Sharswood, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, at Pittsburg, Monday, rendered a decision of interest to the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Charles F Lang, deceased, in his will left a beneficiary certificate to a different person than the one named in the certificate issued by the lodge. The rules of the order forbid the change, except upon notice and payment of a fee of fifty cents. This he omitted, and Judge Sharswood decided that he had not power to change the beneficiaries except in compliance with the rules of the order.

A World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters, as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old-fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right, try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News.

VEGETINE

Behold Me a Well Woman.

CANCER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 26, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON.

DEAR SIR:—I have for years been a sufferer from a dreadful CANCER in my side which caused me untold agony, and as I am a widow with a family depencent upon my exertions for a support, my pain of body was only equalled by my pain of mind, at seeing my children want for bread. I was presented by a kind friend in Cincinnati with half a dozen bottles of Vegetine, and although one bottle is still untouched, behold me a well woman, completely restored in body and mind, and able to perform my accustomed duties. Long may you live! and may the history of my wonderful cure lead other like sufferers to purchase your valuable medicine, if it is with the last cent they possess.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. FULLER SUTT.

I write this to certify that I have known Mrs. Fuller Sutt from childhood, and have seen the hours of agony, that her patient womanhood has been called upon to endure. She has suffered untold agonies and now sits beside me in perfect health with her child upon her knee. The prayers of this grateful woman will ever be yours, my noble sir, and we add our testimony to the thousands that favor the greatest of all modern discoveries, "Vegetine."

Yours respectfully,
MRS. CHELLET SUMMER.

SUFFERED 25 YEARS.

Piles, Rheumatism.

LUNG DISEASE.

SELMA, ALA., May 12, 1872.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I take great pleasure in recommending your Vegetine. I have been suffering for a long time with the Lung Disease; trying every kind of medicine that I could get, but none seemed to do me any good, until I tried your great Vegetine remedy. I had used it only a short time before I could discover a very great change in my health for the better. I don't consider that your medicine has its equal, for the diseases which you propose to cure, especially the disease that I have been afflicted with.

JOHN THOMAS.

BLOOD PURIFIER.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir,—Your Vegetine has performed some wonderful cures in our town, and is esteemed superior to all other Blood Purifiers.

GOODMAN, MISS., May 6, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I have been suffering for 25 years with the Piles and found but little relief from any medicine that I have taken for many years past. Last winter I suffered considerably worse than ever before, also in connection with Rheumatism I was confined to my bed for several weeks. Having procured a bottle of Vegetine I took it with good effect. I continued the use, and after taking four or five bottles, find myself comparatively cured. I can cheerfully recommend it for the benefits that I have received from it.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. TAGGART.

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with flux; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS. Also the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

It is said that Indian babies never cry. This is because they are never taken to public entertainments.

The telephone is making sad inroads upon good manners; the politest person generally begins conversation with a rude shout "Hello, who are you?"

Mrs. Partington reviewing Boston health reports found that the numbers dying from "total diseases," equaled those dying from all others.

There are men who pass for scholars who are so far behind the times that they appear obliged to express their idea in quotations from dead languages.

A Curious Request.

Augustus Schultz, who died in West chester county, N. Y., last week, left in his will a clause which reads: "I desire that after my life has been declared extinct a post mortem examination be instituted, in which the operating physician will make it his especial duty to examine my heart, my left lung and my stomach, the seat, I believe, of my endless suffering. Before closing the examination the physician will also place make a few incisions in my heart. I desire this post mortem examination not only for my ow satisfaction's sake that life is really extinct, but that the doctors' or physicians' report may be the means of guarding my children against similar diseases. I beg my executors as well as my wife to waive any repulsive feeling which a post mortem examination may cause them. It is my positive wish, and as such I have repeatedly expressed it to my wife during our married life."

By Schultz's will none of his bequests are conditional, but he asks of his sons that in accepting their honest share of his large estate they should respect his wish that each should qualify himself for some useful occupation. He suggests, but does not command, the business between the trades and professions, such as civil and mining engineering, architecture and chemicals. But above all he urges that "they should have a thorough knowledge of their native tongue, the English language."

Another Steamship Line.

A line of steamships is about to be established between New York and Palermo. Two fine vessels, the Washington and the Florio are now building on the Clyde for the enterprise. There will be six steamers in all, four thousand tons each, and these will be united with the new steamers of the Florio Company, in or to form one line. They will touch at Genoa, Marseilles and other ports, according to the demands of business. They expect to get a large share of the emigration trade.

What They Say.

Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D., of Washington, D. C., certifies of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure: "I do not doubt that it has great virtue." Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Secretary of Howard University, certifies that for Bright's disease "no other remedy can be held for one moment in comparison with this." E. W. Neff, of Detroit, Mich., certifies that it completely cured him of a very serious chronic liver complaint. J. H. Sherlock, of Rochester, N. Y., certifies that it cured him of Bright's disease of several years' standing, and that he believes it to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. These are samples of hundreds of other testimonials.

Cuticura

From the Hon. Wm. Taylor, State Senator of Massachusetts.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen,—To say that I am grateful, is only a poor expression of my feelings, but it is the best word I can use, for I feel it in every sense of the word. I have been a great sufferer with skin diseases for the last twelve (12) years. My head and face being covered with sores, I could not rest with the burning heat and itching of the parts affected, and was confined to my house for weeks at a time. My disease has been called Eczema, of a most aggravated type, by many physicians, but I doubt if ever fully understood by any of them. It was more like a combination of several skin humors. I have spent much money seeking a cure, and in fact I went to Europe, and consulted some of the best physicians in London. I received temporary relief only, for in the spring it would break out again as bad as ever. When I came back to Boston, I was told by many friends that Dr. ——— (whose reputation for the cure of those diseases was of the highest order) could cure me. I waited on the doctor; he prescribed for me. I followed his advice for six months, and I can safely say, without any improvement. I tried other physicians and among them Dr. ——, of East Boston, and Dr. ——, of city proper, but all to no purpose. They did me no good; their remedies were so ineffectual that at no time did I feel that a cure would result from them.

I have swallowed five hundred arsenic pills, 0.2 grain, and taken bottle after bottle of internal remedies, besides all the external applications I have used, but the effect was the same. I became satisfied that I could not be cured, but might be kept from getting worse.

Now, about three months ago, Mr. Meehan, a gentleman well known to Boston people, called my attention to your CUTICURA, and promised wonderful results if I would only make a trial. He told me of his own experience with it, and so persevered on me that I went with him to a drug store and bought two large boxes of CUTICURA, and some CUTICURA SOAP, and commenced to use it according to the directions. There was so much humor lodged within the skin, that as soon as I commenced the use of CUTICURA it came to the surface and festered, until vast quantities had come out and greatly intensified my sufferings for about two weeks. But I did not mind this, as I felt that I was going to get rid of the humor when I saw it coming to the surface in such large quantities. After the first two or three weeks use of this remedy, I was greatly encouraged by a gradual lessening of the inflammation of a number of painful sores. I carefully, faithfully, and cheerfully followed the directions to the letter, feeling each week nearer a cure, until at the present moment, after three months' use of CUTICURA, and twelve years of as constant suffering as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record. I have been so elated with my success that I have stopped men on the street who were afflicted, and told them to get the CUTICURA and it would cure them. This is why I am so grateful to you, for I believe it to be the best and greatest discovery of the age, and that it will cure all who are suffering with these diseases. I may add that I took no internal medicine but the CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulderblade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine.

IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says: "After a practice of 15 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says: "I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

Rosadalis.

PREVENTIVE OF

Malarial Diseases

THE GREAT SOUTHERN remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scrofulous Taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling Gout, Goitre, Consumption, Bronchitis, Nervous Debility and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the Blood.

The merits of this valuable preparation are so well known that a passing notice is but necessary to remind the readers of this journal of the necessity of always having a bottle of this medicine among their stock of family necessities.

Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians Minister, and heads of families throughout the South, endorsing in the highest terms The Fluid Extract of Rosadalis.

DR. R. WILLIAM CARE, of Baltimore says he has used it in cases of Scrofula and other diseases with much satisfaction.

DR. J. C. PUGH, of Baltimore, recommends it to all persons suffering with diseased Blood, saying it is superior to any preparation he has ever used.

REV DABNEY BALL, of the Baltimore M. E. Conference South, says he is so much benefited by its use that he cheerfully recommends it to all his friends and acquaintances.

CRAVEN & Co., Druggists, of Gordonsville, Va., says it never has failed to give satisfaction.

Samuel G. McFadden, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, says it cured him of Rheumatism when all else failed.

Rosadalis is not a secret quack preparation, its ingredients are published on every package. Show it to your Physician and he will tell you it is composed of the strongest alteratives that exist, and is an excellent blood purifier. Did our space admit we could give you testimonials from every State in the South and from persons known to every man, woman and child either personally or by reputation.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.

For the South Atlantic and East Gulf States, higher pressure diminishing north westerly winds; colder clear weather followed by a slight rise in temperature.

Index to New Advertisements.

ALFRED WILLIAMS—Local notice.
MIDGETS—Tucker Hall.
R. B. ANDREWS & Co.—Local notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Middling 11¼.

——The colored people's fair.

——The weather grows cold.

——One hundred and fifty bales yesterday.

——Fourth day of the Industrial exhibition.

——This is just the weather for oysters and Macon's is the place to get them.

——Display of home-made goods—a nice display of the colored people's industry, showing thrift.

——Colonel Holt, Governor Jarvis and Colonel Polk are in attendance upon the Dixie Fair at Wadesboro.

——Geese and turkeys abound at McMackin's commission warehouse. He seems to have a corner on the fowl market.

——Yesterday was a cold day, but the sun shone and a large crowd was present at the Fair. The crowd enjoyed themselves immensely.

——Cotton was less active on yesterday and prices declined both in our own and the New York market, closing here at 11¼ to 11½ cents.

——The walking match yesterday at the colored people's fair was won by Geo. Harward, of this city. He made five miles in thirty-five minutes and eighteen seconds. Who can beat George? Next.

——What has become of our Young Men's Christian Association? Our poor are suffering and are looking to the Association for the relief they have so long been receiving from our generous citizens through them.

——The funeral of the late Col. J. R. H. Russ took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from the Salisbury Street Church, and was attended by a large number of the friends and acquaintances of the deceased, whose popularity throughout Wake was widespread.

——Mr. S. B. Borden, representing the firm of Davis, Gould & Co.'s extensive carriage manufactury, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is in the city. He will receive a cargo of these celebrated buggies early next week, and will have them on sale at Mr. Wayne Allcott's ware room's. He tells us that his house is one of the oldest and largest in the country and that they manufacture over 14,000 annually and employ 650 workmen regularly in their establishment.

——Read the Rentz-Stanley notice. Its a first class troupe and play at Tucker Hall to-night. Here is what a Denver paper says of them,

"Locke's new venture, the introduction of Madame Rentz's Minstrels and Mabel Stanley's Burlesque Troupe was greeted Saturday night by a house crowded in every part, and the company made an unqualified success. On the raising of the curtain, the stage presented a drawing room with twelve ladies, two end-men and an interlocular, standing in a sui-circle. At an invitation from the interlocutor they took seats and really looked charming. The ladies are one and all beautiful, while their dresses were of the latest style, full train and of the most costly material and fashionable cut. The solos and choruses were all finely given, and were honored by enthusiastic encores. The end-men, Lew Benedict and Chas. Wilson, were both very amusing and kept the audience in a state of good humor. The first part terminated with the musical finale. The performance terminated with the popular burlesque of "Paris," introducing Miss Mabel Santley's Burlesquers. And we must congratulate that lady in having surrounded herself with a bevy of beauties that have not been equaled since the advent here of the British Blondes. The burlesque was well acted and sung, while the several local allusions were very appropos and highly enjoyed by the audience. The performance is first-class in every respect, and deserves as no doubt it will receive, liberal patronage."

Roller Skating To-Night.

The weather is now delightful for Roller Skating, and the Rink will be well patronized to-night by the lovers of this healthful exercise, which produces a healthful bloom to their cheeks, and is the exercise required for their physical development.

The Midgets.

Next week our people will have the opportunity of seeing the smallest of the human family in the world, at Tucker Hall—General Mite and Major Atam. The former can walk between Tom Thumb's legs, and weighs only 15 pounds! These are truly wonderful specimens of the human family and every one should see them. See advertisement.

Governor's Private Secretary.

It has been understood for some time that Mr. Lee S. Overman will return to his former home at Salisbury to practice law. Report says Governor Jarvis will probably confer the Private Secretaryship upon Captain Dudley, chief clerk in the Secretary of State's office,—the vacancy to be filled by Mr. E. B. Englehard.—Farmer and Mechanic.

More Racing To-Day at the Industrial Fair.

There will be several more races at the fair grounds to-day, two purses will be exclusively for colored men's horses. Let everybody go and see what fast stock the colored people have. Among the entries will be a horse owned by Patrick Spencer, another by Bob Hutching and other jockies of the colored race. This without doubt will be the best part of the fair. Let everybody go and see it. If the weather will permit, two balloons will be sent up. The ploughing match will positively take place to-day, and those who propose to enter must do so early.

Unknown.

Mr. John A. Stephens performed "Unknown" at Tucker Hall last evening to a large and appreciative audience. The play itself possesses great merit and the conception is splendid. It is not our forte to compliment any and everything that turns up here in the shape of a theatrical performance, but we do think Mr. Stephens is a good actor and most admirably renders his part of the drama. He is well supported also. We only wish that he would remain longer and give all our citizens and theatre-loving people a chance to witness his admirable acting.

A Tax on Celibacy.

The Conseil General of Rohne Department, in France, impressed by the falling-off in the matrimonal returns recorded within the limits of its jurisdiction, has lately passed a somewhat startling decree imposing a fiscal penalty upon bachelors for the offence against society which it assumes them to perpetrate by remaining single. The following is a brief abridgement of the decree in question: 'Considering that celibacy is contra naturam, and that Providence has prescribed to all existing human beings the ordinance that they shall be born, shall procreate their species, and shall die; . . . . considering that it is the bachelors—soldiers, sailors, lawyers, and, indeed, men of all careers and occupations—who offend all the States of Europe with corrupt views and immoral tendencies; that ecclesiastics, Trappists, and the so-called upper classes, are addicted to sensual indulgence and improprieties which are worse than death itself; it is hereby decreed that the support of forsaken children shall be defrayed by the deduction of one-fourth from the salary or pension of every official or pensioner who is unmarried and resident in the Department of the Rhone, from the humblest to the most exalted employe who belongs or has belonged to the army, the magistrature, or any other branch of the public administration.'

FRANCE, England and Germany are still pouring their gold and silver into this country, at the rate of six or eight million dollars a week. Three millions in gold left Havre a few days ago. France has been an extensive purchaser of a great variety of supplies from this country, and her remittances are gold. This constant, steady influx of gold and silver into the United States for a year has had its inevitable effect in reviving business, and with it, prices, and much speculation.

Strictly Pure.

It is well known that while Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder has been made for many years without reducing its standard of perfect purity, there is not another baking powder in the market that can stand the test for purity. Chemists and physicians use Dr. Prices' Cream Baking Powder in their own families.

Each of Warner's Safe Remedies—the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, Safe Pills, Safe Nervine, and Safe Bitters, is asserted to be the best of its class, and the intention is to keep it so. What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anæmia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Do you suffer with neuralgia or headach? If so take Neuralgine and be relieved. Every bottle guaranteed to give satisfaction if taken according to directions. Hutchinson & Bros., Proprietors, 14 Whitehall street, Atlanta, Georgia. Sold by Pescud, Lee & Co., and William Simpson, Raleigh. *

Political Issues.

Kearney's advice to all parties is to "pool their issues." We think a good deal as he does, that we should bury the dead issues of the past. As a healing compound for all issues, sores, wounds &c., there is nothing equal to Henry's Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfeits. *

Practical Economy.

Before Patapsco Baking Powder was patented and placed on the market consumers had to pay 50 cents per pound for the old rut powders. You can now buy Patapsco for about one-half that amount and get a better article. This accounts for the popularity of Patapsco.

WARNING.

JACOBS' WONDERFUL LITHOGRAM.

J. M. JACOBS, Canadian Patentee of the Lithogram, has this day been assigned Letters Patent of the United States, numbered 105,300, and dated July, 12, 1879, for the Elastac Transfer process of Printing. The assignment and record of the above is dated at Washington, D. C., Nov 10th, 1879, and signed "D. E. Paine, Commissioner of Patents." Under this Patent injunctions will at once be issued all the various "Jrams and Graphs" now infringing on this process; and the public is hereby warned that time and money will be freely spent in finding out every person owning one of these infringements, and they will be rigorously prosecuted under the Patent laws. VEST POCKET CURE. 25 DYSPEPSIA 25 CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, Bap. It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strength of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness, joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward P. E., Va. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of t
